

A

OPPOSE VOUCHERS

- No accountability for public tax dollars, and poor track records in other states.
- Limits accessibility for students with disabilities or those speaking languages other than English.
- Would lead to a decrease in overall public education funding which could lead to loss of services, programs, and staff.

B

OUR STUDENTS & STAFF

- Prioritize funding and incentives for teacher recruitment and retention that offers flexibility for districts to address local staffing needs.
- Continue to focus on addressing learning loss due to absenteeism from pandemic without tying the hands of districts and educators.

C

SUPPORT FUNDING

- Increase capacity of the Fast-Growth Allotment to acknowledge the growing statewide need and reduce proration.
- Increase the Safety Allotment with maintained flexibility.
- Fund public schools based on enrollment versus average daily attendance.

D

LOCAL CONTROL

- Maintain ability of local governments to hold elections on the two uniform election dates in May and November.
- Ensure all bond and tax rate election ballot language is clear, transparent, and understandable. Revise required language that misleads voters.
- Allow district to meet the needs of their individual students through locally developed curriculum and high-quality instructional strategies.

About Tomball ISD

Tomball ISD educates students to become responsible, productive citizens by providing innovative, individually rigorous, and personally valuable educational experiences. Founded in 1908, Tomball ISD now encompasses 83 square miles in northwest Harris County and southwest Montgomery County, and is located approximately 30 miles from downtown Houston. The district currently educates almost 22,000 students at 22 campuses.

OPPOSE VOUCHERS

The basic allotment given to public school districts is $6,160 per average daily attendance, but vouchers would grant $8,000 for each student leaving public education for private education.
